1. Introduction section of the proposal must clearly address the following:
 - The context of the chosen topic.
 - The purpose of the study.
 - The significance and relevance of the study.
- A summary of the methods that will be used for conducting the study
2. Literature Review section should critically assess recent and relevant scholarly articles.
3. Aims or Goals of the Study may include a set of preliminary research questions or hypotheses that focus on what the student aims to answer in the investigation.
4. Methodology segment should include the following:
 - Description of the methods that will be used to conduct the study.
 - Justification for the chosen methods.
 - The sampling techniques (if applicable).

- Description of the execution process of the study in addition to mentioning the analysis tools the student will employ.
 - A brief description of the limitations of the chosen methods and possible risks.
5. References section: At this stage this does not need to be complete. Its purpose is to give the Thesis Advisory Committee an indication of the quality of sources available, and it enables the members to suggest additional sources that may have been overlooked

Please note that a Thesis title must not be changed without the approvals of the Thesis Advisory Committee, the Program coordinator, and the Graduate School.
